

FRIGID RECEPTION GREET'S BRITAIN'S PREMIER IN PARIS

Crowd at Station Silent as Lloyd George and Colleagues Alight From Train.

ARRIVE FOR MEETING OF SUPREME ALLIED COUNCIL

Extra Police Precautions Taken Because of Hostile Attitude of French Press.

COLONEL HARVEY ON HAND

Presence of U. S. Envoy Regarded as Counterbalance to British Prime Minister's Views.

By United News Staff Correspondent. PARIS, Aug. 7.—Greeted by the most frigid reception he has ever met in France, Lloyd George and his colleagues of the British delegation to the supreme allied council meeting alighted from their train here, watched by a great crowd of Parisians, who refused to cheer the celebrities in the party.

The meeting between Lloyd George and Aristide Briand, however, was apparently cordial, the two stocky little Frenchmen shaking hands and exchanging the heartiest of greetings, a thing which is really meant.

Due to the hostile attitude of the French press, which was considerably toned down today, however, because of the government's warning against inflammatory articles, extra police precautions were put into effect at the Gare du Nord and the Hotel Crillon, where the Britishers are to stay.

Field Marshal Albert, who was on hand to greet the British delegation, was widely commented upon, and is viewed as signifying that Great Britain does not wish to be drawn into any technical discussion as to the necessity of re-enforcements in Upper Silesia.

Premier Briand is undoubtedly facing a crisis in the history of his leadership. If he yields too much to Great Britain, possibly those positions now secretly being circulated by his enemies, and calling for the reconvening of the French Parliament, may gain sufficient signatures to bring it about. But the little Briand will at least fight to the last ditch.

Ambassador Harvey on Hand. Ambassador George Harvey, whose presence at the conference is regarded by the French press as a counterbalance to Lloyd George's antagonistic views, but who is absolutely silent as to whether he will take that position—or any other—in the coming sessions, had two narrow escapes after his arrival in Paris.

The first was when he very nearly collided with the old Colonel House suite at the Hotel Crillon. The second was when he almost took the suite known as King Alfonso's, in the deuce. It is understood that he lodged the first in order to avoid the accusation of being too close to the British delegation. And, when he arrived at de Maurice, the manager tried to oust the family which was enjoying the luxury of the Spa, a royal suite for a fortnight, but they refused to yield.

Mute Testimony of Harvey. So Ambassador Harvey's rooms took out on the bare Tuilleries gardens, which are mute testimony of the havoc of the Commune in 1870. Ambassador Harvey's dinner to his colleagues took place at the Crillon, and was a highly enjoyable event. It is said Major-General Allen has now arrived to consult Harvey on the political and economic phases attached to keeping American troops in the Rhine.

Premier Briand worked in solitude until mid-afternoon today, when he signed the customs convention with Switzerland. Then he went to the station to greet Lloyd George and the British delegation.

The Quai d'Orsay rapidly is assuming the aspect of a major peace conference. In the clock room at the horseshoe table, around which will be forty red-leather chairs, Premier Briand will preside.

Consider International Problems. It is understood that the conference will consider the international problems in the following order: Upper Silesian re-enforcements; Silesian boundaries, on which the committees of experts will present widely varying reports; guarantee of the Rhine; trial of German war criminals; supplies for Russia; the aerial causes of the Versailles treaty, with which the Poch commission claims Germany has not complied; the Greco-Turkish war, which he is said to have aided to Austria; the Albanian question.

It is possible that the last-named problem will not be brought up at all, but the plight of Austria certainly will. The case has been forcibly presented to the allies by her representatives, who point out that, unless aid is forthcoming from the allies, Austria may be driven into the arms of Germany.

Japan Urges U. S. Aid in Settling Silesian Dispute

By United News Staff Correspondent. PARIS, Aug. 7.—Baron Hayashi, Japanese ambassador to Great Britain, would like to see America intervene and help settle the Silesian dispute if England and France fail to come to an agreement, he told the United News today, adding that he hoped that President Harding will permit Ambassador Harvey to take an active part in the work of the supreme council.

"A speedy settlement of the issue is most desirable," he declared. "Japan, naturally, is not directly interested in the question, but adjustment will be beneficial to all nations from the viewpoint of trade."

Probably within the next ten days, Hughes will send out a formal note, summoning a conference to Washington on November 11. All of the negotiating commission and the various divisions of experts to represent this country at the disarmament conference.

RELEASE SINN FEIN PRISONERS TODAY

All Will Have Freedom by Noon Except John J. McKeown.

DEEM ACTION NECESSARY

Irish Republicans Gravelly Offended Over Refusal of Dublin Castle to Free Man.

By United News Staff Correspondent. DUBLIN, Aug. 7.—All the Sinn Fein members of the Irish Republican Parliament now in prison will have been released by tomorrow, except John J. McKeown, who is under conviction for having murdered District Inspector McGrath.

Though the opening of the Parliament is some time off, the immediate release of the prisoners has been decided on as necessary to afford them opportunity to confer with their colleagues.

The general impression expressed by the newspapers is to the effect that the government's action in freeing the prisoners has been marred by making an exception in the case of McKeown. The murder for which he was convicted, the shooting of District Inspector McGrath during a fight in which the inspector tried to shoot him, McKeown also as the organizer of several ambushes in County Longford, in which members of the crown forces were blown up by mines.

At his trial several British officers testified in behalf of McKeown, saying that they had received good treatment while held captive by him. The sentence of death has not received the confirmation of the commander-in-chief as yet.

McKeown was the commandant of the Irish Republican army in his district and his acts were endorsed by his chiefs. Hence his detention in prison while others are permitted freedom is regarded by the newspapers as indefensible. All the men are to be released unconditionally. No paroles have been asked for or given.

Irish Truce Is Threatened

By United News Staff Correspondent. DUBLIN, Aug. 7.—Reputation of the truce between England and Ireland is considered a possibility should the British government persist in its refusal to liberate John J. McKeown, a member of the Irish Republican Parliament, who is under conviction for murder.

Responsible Sinn Fein leaders identify themselves with McKeown's act as part of the war and consider refusal to release him as indicating a want of good faith on the part of the government.

EXPECT NEW ATTEMPT TO RESTORE KING CHARLES

By United News Staff Correspondent. GENEVA, Aug. 7.—Private information from various European sources confirms dispatches from Budapest reporting unusual activity in the Hapsburg movement, apparently leading to a second attempt to restore either King Charles or Archduke Albert to the Hungarian throne.

There is every indication that this month will witness a new effort to bring about the political coup, in spite of official denials from those in power in Hungary that such action is contemplated.

SELECT U. S. ARMS NEGOTIATORS ALONE FOR THEIR FITNESS

Harding Determined Cry of "Partisan Commission" Shall Not Be Raised.

HUGHES TO ISSUE CALL FOR CONFERENCE IN TEN DAYS

Personnel of American Delegation Most Vital Consideration of President.

By Robert J. Bender, United News Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Selection of America's best-informed diplomatic talent, regardless of political affiliations, is the aim of President Harding and Secretary Hughes for the negotiating commission and the various divisions of experts to represent this country at the disarmament conference.

Probably within the next ten days, Hughes will send out a formal note, summoning a conference to Washington on November 11. All of the negotiating commission and the various divisions of experts to represent this country at the disarmament conference.

It is a well understood fact that both England and France, in the past, have established reputations for diplomacy throughout the world far above that of the United States. Their experts on world affairs are established everywhere on a scale that the United States government has never approached. It is realized by those who have sponsored the forthcoming conference, therefore, that if this government is to hold its own in the great diplomatic struggle now approaching, extraordinary care must be exercised in the selection of its negotiators and experts.

U. S. Must Gain Points. President Harding, too, is cognizant of the fact that, not only must the United States gain its points in such a manner, but that later, he must win over Congress and the people to whatever convention is agreed to by the conference, if his project is not to follow the path of the Versailles treaty.

Therefore, Harding will select representatives of this government in such a manner that the cry of "a partisan commission" raised against former President Wilson's appointments cannot be raised against the Harding commission. The negotiators will be selected, it is said, with an eye solely to their fitness for the undertaking and the likelihood of

TWO SHOT IN RIOT AT GAME OF BASEBALL; NEGRO NEAR LYNCHING

Black Fires Into Crowd, Injuring Two Boys—Police Save Him From Death.

By Associated Press. DETROIT, Aug. 7.—A fight, starting at a baseball game on the outskirts of Detroit this afternoon, led to the shooting of two white boys, one perhaps mortally, and an attempt to lynch Sam Griggs, negro, who is alleged to have done the shooting.

Griggs was saved by the arrival of local police and re-enforcements from Hamtramck, a suburb, after a crowd of men and boys had severely beaten him with fists and baseball bats and had tied a rope around his neck with the announced intention of hanging him.

The boys wounded were Victor Budkowski, 12 years old, and Peter Nadrowski, 12. The condition of the latter is said to be critical. They were in a crowd that had chased Owen Griggs, negro, to the home of Sam Griggs, his cousin, after Owen was said to have struck a white child in an altercation over a seat at the game.

Owen sought safety in the house, according to the police, and when Sam Griggs came outside and faced the crowd at his front door, the police were informed, Mary Andrews, his sister, handed him a revolver and he fired into the gathering, wounding the boys.

By Alexander F. Jones. CHICAGO, ILL., Aug. 7.—After searching for many years, Florenz Ziegfeld, Jr., the premier judge of beauty, has found the ideal type. She is the "Snuggler." "It describes her better than any other name I can think of," he told United News. "She is clever. She has brains. She can sing, dance, act. She has a world of pep and lots of personality. She has good-looking legs, and lips that smile and smile and smile."

"She is the girl the business man wants to see. He wants to see somebody he can love. He puts out his arms to catch her—and she is gone. She is crazy to be loved—ah! yes, but she is gone. She is what I call the Snuggler."

"She has disappeared. And now—the champion girl of them all—the Snuggler—Marilyn Miller."

WITH TWO IN CUSTODY, SOLUTION OF SLAYING OF BROKER EXPECTED

Following Detention of Pretty Divorcee and Companion, Police Begin Gathering Loose Ends of Evidence. Seek Men Seen to Flee From Scene of Crime.

By Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, CAL., Aug. 7.—With Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, of Evansville, Ill., held as a material witness, and Arthur C. Burch, also of Evansville, Ill., held in connection with the slaying in Beverly Glen Friday night of John B. Kennedy, insurance broker, county and city officials today began gathering loose ends of evidence which they expect to lead to an early solution of the mystery.

Kennedy was shot from ambush when, accompanied by Mrs. Obenchain, he was searching the ground in front of his Beverly Glen home for a "lucky penny," which his companion said she had buried there a year ago. According to Mrs. Obenchain and a neighbor, two men were seen fleeing from the place directly after the shots were fired.

Mrs. Obenchain, who, though only 29 years old, is a divorcee, having separated from her husband, Ralph B. Obenchain, a prominent Chicago attorney, denies all knowledge of the shooting. She avers that she was to have married Kennedy and that she had obtained her divorce for this purpose. Opposition by Kennedy's family is said to have delayed the marriage.

Burch and Mrs. Obenchain knew each other at Northwestern University, where they were students. Facts Leading to Arrest. The facts leading to the arrest of Burch were given out by deputy sheriffs in charge of the investigation, in substance as follows:

On July 21, Burch went to a small hotel on Broadway here and obtained a front room partially facing the office occupied by Kennedy's firm. He asked for a room directly opposite Kennedy's office and offered a bonus for it. The room was occupied, however, and he was refused. He spent all his time in his room thereafter, hotel employees said, constantly watching Kennedy's office.

Burch was visited several times by a young woman, whom he said was his cousin. The landlady was shown photographs of Mrs. Obenchain tonight and said she was not the visitor.

Friday evening, Burch left the hotel early, after receiving a telephone call from a woman. He carried a long nody's family is said to have delayed the marriage.

CLUE TO ELWELL SLAYING 4 HAVE NARROW ESCAPE FAILS IN CLARKE WOMAN AS SEAPLANE LANDS IN BAY

Declare Florida Postmistress Had Not Been North of Atlanta Since Infancy. STATEMENTS DISCREDITED

Authorities Allege Woman Held on Murder Charge Received $30,000 From Wealthy Clubman to Cover Shortages.

By Associated Press. ORLANDO, FLA., Aug. 7.—Authorities announced today that they had definitely established that Miss Lena Clarke, postmistress at West Palm Beach, who is alleged to have confessed to a $32,000 postal theft, and is held in jail here in connection with the killing of W. H. Millmore, former postal employee, in her room at a local hotel here Monday night, had no connection with the murder of Joseph B. Elwell, wealthy clubman, in New York, June, 1920.

They have established, they say, that Miss Clarke has not been north of Atlanta, Ga., since she was an infant. Elwell's name was brought into the case by excerpts from an alleged statement made public by the authorities last night. This purported statement, some 2,000 words in length, was made public in full today by Sheriff Karel, of Orange County. It is said to contain no important details not announced last night.

It is described by the woman, authorities say, as the history of her life beginning with the loss of $35,000 from the post-office while her brother, Paul Clarke, was postmaster in 1918, and ending with the killing of Millmore. As to the actual killing of the man, however, the alleged statement is hazy, and quotes the woman as saying she had been without food for two days previously and does not "remember" it.

Elwell, according to the alleged statement, a winter visitor to Palm Beach, loaned the woman the money to cover the loss for which she believes Millmore responsible. Later Elwell called for an optional settlement, the alleged statement continues, and rather than submit to his demands, she entered upon a career of doctoring the post-office accounts.

Miss Clarke's attorneys announced today that they would not attempt to obtain her release by habeas corpus proceedings, but gave no indication as to when they would ask for a preliminary hearing.

Funeral services were held at a local undertaker's establishment today for Millmore, after which the body, accompanied by relatives, was sent to his former home at West Palm Beach for burial.

CHARGES CLIQUE CONTROLS GOVERNMENT MACHINERY

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—An attack on the administration generally and on the House Ways and Means committee particularly for its handling of the tariff and tax questions is made in a statement issued today by Representative Keller (Independent, Republican), of St. Paul, Minn., author of four tax revision bills which have been endorsed by organizations of farmers and others.

Mr. Keller charges that "the machinery of government has been commandeered by a little clique, ignorant of the A B C's of economics, whose blind obedience to Wall Street is responsible for the selfish, short-sighted policy that is retarding our prosperity and creating profound distrust and discontent among the people."

DANVILLE REACTS FROM STUNNING BLOW OF DEATH

Family, Widely Separated When End Came, Reached City Yesterday.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] DANVILLE, VA., Aug. 17.—The funeral of Congressman Rorer A. James, whose unexpected death took place at his home yesterday morning, will be held at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the residence on Main Street, Rev. J. Cleveland Hall, D. D., pastor of many years of the Church of the Epiphany, in which Colonel James was a communicant, will officiate. Interment will take place in Green Hill Cemetery.

Indications pointed tonight to a largely attended funeral, as people were beginning to arrive from all quarters of the State, throughout which Colonel James was widely known. The congressional delegation of six Congressmen and six Senators, will arrive early in the morning. It is understood that others in the State not actually named on the official list will come, including Senator Carter Glass, of Lynchburg, and a brother newspaper publisher.

State Senator E. Lee Trinkle and Senator Claude Swanson were expected to reach Danville during the night.

James' Family Sattered. Colonel James' family, which was widely scattered at the time of his sudden death, began returning during the early hours of today. They had read the news, some of them in papers, while others were called by personal telegrams and caught the first train home. Mrs. James, who was in Philadelphia, with her son, Wilson, arrived soon after midnight. Throughout the day people from all over Danville, but the rural section, came in to express their sympathy in person, calling at the house during the day. Many of them viewed for the last time the man who had meant much to them in their lives. Colonel James appeared as a man asleep in perfect repose.

Many beautiful flowers and floral designs already have begun to arrive. The congressional token is a large wreath. The funeral will be held at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the residence on Main Street, Rev. J. Cleveland Hall, D. D., pastor of many years of the Church of the Epiphany, in which Colonel James was a communicant, will officiate. Interment will take place in Green Hill Cemetery.

Large Assembly Gathers at Metropolitan Opera House for Memorial Services.

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The voice of Enrico Caruso, recorded on a phonograph record, moved a large assembly of his friends to tears today when they gathered in the Metropolitan Opera House to pay tribute to the great tenor who died last week.

Opera singers, musicians, professional men and patrons of music mingled with stage hands, laborers and "gallery gods" at the memorial services. A large portrait of the tenor, draped in American and Italian flags, occupied a conspicuous place, and beneath it were several floral wreaths from direct and members of the Metropolitan Opera Company, stage hands and others.

Dr. Antonio Stella, Caruso's personal physician, presided. He delivered a brief eulogy, describing the tenor as "not only a great singer, but also a great man."

ZR-2 WILL ACHIEVE DE LUXE AIR TRAVEL

Huge Dirigible Will Put Off From England August 25 for U. S.

By United News Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—De luxe aerial travel in its most advanced stage will be achieved when the ZR-2, latest marvel of the air, puts off in England August 25 for its cruise across the Atlantic to American shores.

Were the ZR-2 to land in Times Square, New York, it would almost completely fill this spacious traffic center, with the top of the ship about on a level with the Astor roof. And if the mammoth ship should drop down in front of the Capital Building at Washington, only twenty-five feet of the Capitol would extend beyond the nose and tip of the air liner.

Six Hundred Feet Long. Stand her on end at the side of the Washington Monument and the giant craft would tower 150 feet above the top of the shaft.

Twelve officers and thirty men will make the voyage, with the crew finding spacious quarters in the keelway of the boat. Within the quarters are comfortable chairs, tables, a phonograph and numerous sleeping-bunks. Each power car hanging from the bag is equipped with cooking arrangements. A lead from the exhaust pipe of the motor brings the hot exhaust flames in contact with the bottom of the vessel in which the food is being cooked.

Use Piano Wire as Braces. Piano wire, used as stays and braces, accounts in great measure for the structural strength of the ship, and a string sixty miles long could be constructed if all the piano wire in the ZR-2 were placed end to end.

It is interesting, too, to learn that 600,000 cows have contributed their carcasses to the construction of the mighty air boat. The gas bags which contain the hydrogen gas are lined with gold-beaters' skins, taken from the outer covering of a cow's intestine. Biological statistics show there is only one gold-beater-skin to each cow—and 600,000 of these skins have been used to line the gas bags of the ZR-2.
